Testimonials

Franc O'Shea (Head of Bass at BIMM/Steve Howe/Solo Artist)

"Sam Brown is an excellent player who has a deep passion for music. He soaks up many styles as a player which gives his playing an eclectic edge as his horizons continue to expand. He approaches everything that he does with a professional attitude and he works well not only in a solo performance capacity but is a great team player and makes a welcome addition to any band by providing a solid but creative foundation."

Jason Knight (Reef/Kula Shaker)

"Sam is a highly skilled bass player, but more importantly a great performer who looks great on stage. For the 3 years I've seen him develop, I have been impressed with his enthusiasm and commitment to every band - a true team player."

Martin Wright (Ronnie Wood/Slash/ Deputy Head of Songwriting BIMM)

"Sam is a very capable bass player and has worked hard to achieve a professional ability required for today's demanding music industry. He's a patient and enthusiastic persona and is a pleasure to work with in any creative situation."

Dom Abba, Student in 2012

"Sam was a brilliant teacher, he helped me get to grips with all aspects of my playing and was nothing but a nice guy all the way throughout our sessions together"

Jimmy Holiday, Hear and Now Entertainment

Sam Brown has worked for Hear and Now for over 2 years on multiple international contracts. He always has a great attitude and positive approach, and gives 100% to every performance. A true professional and a joy to work with.

Joe Warner, CEO at Hear and Now Entertainment

Sam Brown has been a part of the Hear and Now team for a long time, providing great entertainment for all our clients on multiple contracts over many years. His professionalism is exceptional, as is his role as a singing bass player. When Sam joined any Hear and Now band the revenue in the bar increased, that is no coincidence.
